millie had a fit on Monday, and would have fallen into the machinery but for the assistance of Joseph Conroy, a fellow workman.

Miss Jeanie Pratt Andrus, a daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Van Arsdale Andrus of the First Artillery, Fort Hamilton, former residents of this town, was married on Wednesday in Bay Ridge to Lieut. Oscar Straub of the First Artillery, Fortress Monroe.

The following well known musicians will appear at the concert to be given in the Bethel Presbyterian Church on the 23d inst: Miss Amy Ward Murray, soprano; Charles Edwin Snow, bass; Milton H. Gruett, violinist; Frank E. Drake, pianist; George H. Lawrence, organist.

Petitions were presented to the Montclair Township Committee on Monday night asking that Lincoln Street and Glen Ridge Avenue be macadamized in the Bloomfield line. George P. Farmer offered to contribute $250 towards defraying the expense of macadamizing Lincoln Street.

In digging the trench for the union outlet sewer on the easterly end of Montgomery Street the workmen covered up a hydrant with the debris. The matter was reported to Mr. Gilbert of the Fire Committee, and he compelled the men to uncover it and leave it accessible in case of fire.

John G. Broughton, Jr., received the degree of Doctor of Medicine at the annual commencement of the College of Physicians and Surgeons on last Wednesday evening. Dr. Broughton is also a graduate of the N. Y. College of Dentistry, and will continue the practice of dentistry for the present at his office in New York city.

Platonic affection is an evil that has broken up many happy homes. Men of means and culture delude themselves with the idea that they can indulge in a pure-minded affection for some one of the opposite sex without exciting the passions that common men and women are susceptible to under such circumstances. Such men by reason of their social standing are able to place public opinion at defiance for a time, but the crash inevitably comes and they involve themselves and others in a cloud of scandal that is never dispelled during a lifetime. Platonic affections transcend the power of weak mortals to indulge in from professors down to hoodlars. It is a condition of life fit only for angels.

Any man inspired with a desire to love his neighbor's wife or daughter in the same degree that he should love his own wife had better postpone his effusion of affection until he shuffles off this mortal coil.

The fair in aid of the building fund of the Watessing M. E. Church will open on Tuesday evening and be continued two nights.

The Social Guild of the Watessing M. E. Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Curry on Ella Street last Monday night.

A musical and literary entertainment will be held in Prospect Hall on Monday night, under the auspices of the Watessing Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The ladies of the Watessing M. E. Church who will have the management of the church fair met at the residence of Mrs. A. H. Edgerley on Wednesday night and completed their arrangements.

Samuel Doupe, in the employ of R. S. Barnes, the grocer at the corner of Dodd and Prospect Streets, was severely injured on Wednesday by trying to get on a wagon while it was in motion. His leg was badly torn from the knee down.

An announcement that Joseph Brooks and James Andrews will sail for England next month to look after a fortune said to be awaiting Mr. Brooks in the Bank of England is premature. Mr. Brooks will not cross the water until he receives notice from his lawyer that he can get immediate possession of the money.

A pleasant home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Tinton, on Willow Street, Wednesday night, when their daughter, Elizabeth A. and John Holder of Orange were united in marriage by the Rev. E. W. White of Christ Episcopal Church, Bloomfield. The parlor was handsomely decorated with flowers, and a large number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. A number of handsome presents were received.

Children attending the Reformed Church Sunday-school are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the annual picnic.

W. M. Brokaw purchased a new bay horse at Morristown last Saturday, and now rides behind the handsomest team in Brookdale.

George Perdue had the misfortune to lose a valuable Jersey cow the first of the week. It is supposed milk fever was the cause of death.

Since George Fisher's team ran away a short time ago, he rarely leaves them unguarded. They were left standing in the field while the driver went to the house, and finding themselves free they ran out on Broad Street, and started for Bloomfield. They were not stopped until they had reached Bay Lane.

On Thursday of last week W. M. Brokaw's residence at Broad Street was broken into by a defective flue, but for the presence of mind of Mrs. Brokaw the building might have been consumed. Her energetic action in drenching the burning portion with water quenched the flames before any great damage was done.

It Prevents a Waste of Hose.

East Orange's Fire Department has among its appliances a small instrument called a "hose mender." It cost about $20. A member of the Department says that it saves the township a great deal of money. When a length of hose bursts instead of throwing away the whole length the defective part is cut out and by aid of the machine a couple is put on and the hose again made ready for use. Such a machine would probably prove a valuable adjunct to the equipment of the Department in this town.

Best Scores at the Olympic.

The following are the best bowling scores made at the Olympic during the week: Frederick H. Chase, 231; R. C. Thompson, 214; W. R. Poe, 191; Rev. E. A. White, 185; E. W. Gardner, 185; H. S. Parker, 184; E. G. Taylor, 183; Dr. Wm. R. Broughton, 176; Mrs. W. A. Cossett, 143; Miss Alice Seymour, 137; Mrs. W. S. Rowland, 135; Miss Maude Freeman, 119.

Active Hose is Seven Years Old.

Active Hose Company, No. 2, was organized seven years ago yesterday, and the members celebrated the event with a banquet last night. The first meeting for the purpose of organizing a hose company in Watessing was held at the house of William Coffman on Myrtle Street, and Mr. Coffman was the first Foreman of the company. The name "Active" was well chosen and the members of the company have proved themselves deserving of the appellation during the seven years of fire duty. There will be no question but what the fourteen members of the company who are now entitled to exemption certificates are deserving of them by reason of prompt and efficient service. Many of them will retire from active service and bequeath to a new and younger generation the task of maintaining the enviable reputation of Active Hose Company No. 2. The "Young Bloods" will have no easy task on their hands. The members entitled to exemption certificates are Allan Andrews, James Foster, William Elmer, Charles Albion, Walter Elmer, Ralph Gildersleeve, Charles Durning, James Nichols, Louis Bonifant, John R. Wilde, Frank Foster, August Bauswein, and John Wenden.

"Ye Last Day of Skule."

The East Orange Lawn Tennis Association are to repeat the dramatic performance lately given by them with such surprising success in Commonwealth Hall, East Orange, in Montclair Club Hall on Friday, June 24th, for the benefit of the Mountainside Hospital.

Mr. John Leonard Merrill, the author of the farce, takes the part of Miss Peterkin, the school-teacher, and twenty-one other young men well known in Orange society sustain the parts of the boy and girl pupils. The New York papers spoke enthusiastically of the performance and the Herald saying it was the funniest ever given in Orange. Some excellent skit-dancing is seen in the second part, "Miss Peterkin's Evening Party," and happy local hits abound. Tickets 75 cents, exchangeable for reserved seats at Scherff's Drug Store, Bloomfield, and Baldwin's in Montclair.

Knights of Honor Elect Officers.

At the last meeting of Excelsior Lodge, 2342, Knights of Honor, the following were elected as the officers for ensuing term: Past Dictator, Joseph R. Rusby; Dictator, Robert W. Farrand; Vice-Dictator, Jeremiah Davis; Assistant Dictator, Herman Elchorn; Chaplain, Lewis Dawkins; Reporter, Willis H. Cadmus; Financial Reporter, C. L. Voorhees; Treasurer, George M. Cadmus; Guide, Enoch Chatterton; Guardian, Wm. J. Bailey; Sentinel, John Robinson; Trustees, Fred Berstlecher, Edward Christopherson, and George Hunt. On the 23d the lodge will pay a fraternal visit to Progress Lodge of Franklin, and all members of the order are invited.

Will Make a Good Meal.

An opossum was caught on Glenwood Avenue near the railroad station by Harry C. Tanner on Tuesday night. The animal was placed on exhibition in Shoenthal's show window. It will be kept until fall and then a well-known colored man will eat what he says is the "sweetest meat in the world."

Admitted to Jail.

Fred. Dieffenbacher of Second Street was arrested by Officers Foster and Harvey on Thursday night, charged by Maria Westerfield of Glenwood Avenue of being the father of her unborn child. Justice Post admitted him to bail to appear for trial on Tuesday next.
